Tuesday, June 19. 1705.

From the Brussels Gazette, dated June 12.

Venice, May 23.

WE Have receiv'd Letters from Constantinople, dated the 28th of March last, which say, that tho' the Turks make Preparations for War by Sea and Land, the Porte have no Thoughts of making a Rupture with any Christian Potentate this Year; that the Grand Vizier forms no Projects of his own, but endeavours to keep safe in his Office by conforming himself to the Sultan's Inclination and Will in all Things; that the depos'd Grand Vizier Kaly-lucoche who was sent in Banishment to the Isle of Lemnos, is made Bassa of Canee, in the Room of Dabdula Basfa, whom the Grand Signior has sent for to Court with design to conferr on him some other Employment: And that the Hospodar of Moldavia is depos'd, but that the People of that Country having refus'd to pay Obedience to the Person whom the Ottoman Porte have nominated in his stead, 'tis presum'd the former will be re-establish'd in his Dignity, upon his paying a large Sum of Money, which it seems he offers. These Letters add, that Madam Colliers, Mother of the Dutch Ambassador, is dead; and that she has left behind her to her Son above 200 Purses, formerly bequeath'd to her by her Husband who was also Ambassador from the States General to the Porte.

From the Brussels Gazette, dated June 16.

Casal, June 2. The Dutches d' Elboeuf, who has been some Time at Milan, whither she went to visit the Prince and Princeps of Vaudemont, came back hither some Days ago, to take her Leave of the Duke of Mantua and his Dutches her Daughter: She staid but 2 Days here, and is gone to Genoa, where she is to embark for France, and will be attended by some of the King's Galleys that are appointed to convoy her. The Night before last, the Duke of Vendome arriv'd here from the Army in Lombardy; and will proceed from hence in a few Days, to put himself at the Head of the Troops that are drawing together at Fontanella. The Count d' Estaing is with 4000 Men in the Neighbourhood of Ivrea, to prevent the Enemy's surprizing and carrying off the Ammunitions and Provisions that are sent to that Place, where great Magazines are laying up against the opening of the Campaign. The Artillery is all drawn out of Vercelli, and all the Fortifications of that Place are blown up: 50 Pieces of that Artillery are brought hither, to be plac'd in our Castle and on our Ramparts.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated June 18. &c.

Milan, June 6. The Prince of Vaudemont, our Governour General, is gone to Voghera to meet the Marquis de Bedmar, who is expected there to Morrow, on the Way to Naples, where he will pass over into Sicily of which he is Viceroy: They write from Naples, that the Duke d' Escalona Viceroy of that Kingdom has remov'd out of the chief Apartment of his Palace, and has order'd it to be fitted up very magnificently against the coming of the Marquis de Bedmar; and that the Countess de San Estevan de Gormaz, the Duke d' Escalona's Daughter in Law, has likewise quitted that Part of the Palace in which she usually lodges in Order to the Marchioness de Bedmar's being lodg'd and entertain'd there. 2000 Prisoners, Germans and Piemontois, among them about 400 Officers, are on the Wey to Genoa to be transported thence to France. The Duke of Vendome is at Casal, hastening the great Preparations that are making there for the intended Siege of Turin. His Troops that were in Quarters of Refreshment, are filing to their Rendezvous appointed between Crescentino and Ivrea, the Count de Albergotti commanding them: And 'tis reported the Duke de la Feuillade is in full march with his Forces to joyn them. 'Tis believ'd that in a few days they will pass the Doria, to dislodge the Duke of Savoy from Chivas that they may secure a free Passage up the Po; which is essential to be done before Siege be laid to Turin. Monsieur de Lapara is to have the Direction of that Siege under the Duke de la Feuillade; the Duke of Vendome being to return to the Army under the Grand Prior his Brother in the Bressan, as soon as he has seen the said Siege form'd in such a Manner as he himself shall order. Mean Time, the Duke of Savoy has put a strong Garrison of Germans, under a Governour of their own Nation, into Turin, and with the rest of his Troops has posted himself at Chivas.

Remarks upon Mr. Clark's Sermons Preach'd, at St. Paul's against Hobbe, Spinoza, and other Atheists; wherein 'tis demonstrated: 1. That Mr. C. by the Sceptical Hypothesis he employs, absolutely cuts off all possible Means of knowing the Nature, or of proving the Existence of the one only True God against Hobbe, Spinoza, or any other Atheist whatever. 2. That in Reference to God, or Spirits, he reduces Humane Understanding, to the most Incurable State of Scepticism. These Two Particulars are handled and prov'd Geometrically. 3. The Reasons are produced which convince the Author of this Paper, that those Sermons do rather Establish than Destroy, do rather Confirm than Confuse Spinoza's Hypothesis, 4to.
